The bibliographic description of references must comply with the Harvard international referencing standard (citethisforme.com/harvard-referencing). For electronic sources, the date of last access must be indicated.

References – a transliterated Latin-script version of the Ukrainian «Список бібліографічних посилань».

If a bibliographic source is originally presented in Cyrillic, it must be transliterated into Latin script (transliteration of the author's name, transliteration of the title of the source + [English translation of the title], transliteration of the publication title + [its English translation]).

If the source is in English, it should be formatted according to the Harvard standard (citethisforme.com/harvard-referencing).

For Ukrainian-language references, you may use an online transliteration tool such as:

- http://www.slovnyk.ua/services/translit.php
- http://ukrlit.org/transliteratsiia

The author is responsible for the grammatical accuracy of the transliteration.

If the referenced material has an assigned DOI, it must be indicated after the URL.

Given that the conference proceedings are included in scientometric databases and to ensure correct indexing of articles, authors must additionally provide the following in English:

- author information (full name, academic degree and title, affiliation — written without abbreviations),
- title of the paper,
- an abstract of 120–180 words,
- keywords.

An identical version of the abstract must also be provided in Ukrainian.
